I object Further Development of the Political Appointment System.

There are already two top management posts in each bureau, namely Secretary & Permanent Secretary. In these recently years, we can see that the Secretaries do not have much to do (a secretary has gained more than 20lbs!) and therefore it is a waste of money to have a further political appointment system.

Opinion: combine Secretary & Permanent Secretary together then develop the appointment system. Otherwise, do not think of a further development (save some money to stop GST!!).
